Dates, Times, and Location:

Note: The same webinar is being offered twice. Choose one session to attend.

- Tuesday, April 29, 2025 from 10:00-11:30AM, Virtual Webinar
- Wednesday, May 28, 2025 from 1:00-2:30PM, Virtual Webinar

Description of the Training: As an early childhood professional with a disability, a parent of a child with a disability, and a daughter of a parent with a disability, Jani Kozlowski has spent a lot of time thinking and wondering about collaborative relationships in the early childhood field. Plus, research has shown that collaboration creates a collective intelligence that is greater than the sum of its parts. These are powerful partnerships! How can we learn together using our own unique perspectives? What are the most important components in collaborative partnerships? What makes for a successful partnership? Let's discuss! In this session, Jani will share personal stories, current research and evidence-based strategies for collaborating together to foster high-quality learning environments for children with and without delays or disabilities. Together we can foster belonging for each and every child and family.

Presenter: Jani Kozlowski, MA

Credits: Infant Toddler Training Hours, Act 48 Clock Hours

Target Audience: These webinars are designed for family members and EI professionals including therapists, teachers, special instructors, service coordinators and administrators.
